

G&G Industries monitors all access on the website to protect operations and comply with policy. Monitoring is limited to authorized purposes and assigned scope. Users will receive notice upon sign-in and through the AUP; personal communications are not reviewed unless required by law or incident response to ensure maximum security and privacy.

G&G industries collects only the minimum amount of data necessary, restricts access to trained staff, and retains monitoring data for 30 days unless G&G Industries is required to hold onto data for investigations or legal holds. However, Once G&G Industries is no longer required to hold onto suspected data, the individual/customers private data will then be removed from our systems. To receive additional information regarding your rights, individual's/customers with raised concerns or appeal with the practices described, the individual should contact G&G industries by sending an email to GGIndustries@gmail.com. Misuse or violations may result in the loss of access and/or disciplinary action.